Dear Jason and Chris:

Thank you for the professional and efficient service to our company and the industry in general. Our experience with you two and the team at Hammerhead International has been exceptional! Your help with the design specifications for our very detailed plans helps us and our clients to achieve the best possible results. Your ability to provide operating budgets early on is essential in allowing clients to make decisions in the design process. Your company's ability to provide turnkey installations, even internationally, is a key ingredient in achieving a proper installation and a great asset.

Thank you also for becoming part of the Genesis faculty and teaching others in our industry about the proper applications and installation techniques of these clear panels. We appreciate you sharing your expertise.

In particular, we appreciate your help with our recent project in Bal Harbour, Florida for this 63' long by 3' high clear pool wall with a vanishing edge overflow. This was a complicated and complex project that required a concerted effort by many different contractors. Your ability to coordinate with these various disciplines and interact with them in a very professional manner allowed a smooth flow of progress and guaranteed the ultimate positive outcome of this project. We are proud to partner with you on these types of projects and look forward to many more! I would highly recommend you and the Hammerhead team to anyone that is considering including clear panels in their projects. Please feel free to have any potential clients of yours contact me, or our president, Andrew Kaner, with any additional questions.

Sincerely,

Brian Van Bower, CEO
